(March 2nd, 2020)*

As requested, a call was placed to Dairy Queen this morning and they will charge us $1.00/bar = $575.00. Since I won't be there tonight, I've listed last year's receipts so you can see how the money was spent as a reference.

2019 breakdown of expenses:

- 675.00 - Aramark vs. ORGANIC LIFE QUOTE $2,271.25
- 118.66 - Balloons, brownies and chips
- 325.27 - Pens (student gift)
- 40.58 - Event set-up supplies from Ace Hardware
- 12.98 - Sharpies
- 46.22 - props and photo booth background decorations
- 23.98 - Beach balls
- 89.05 - Table cloths, another photo backdrop and balloon weights
- 450.00 - Dilly Bars

Per Michelle Dague, we'll give a "Class of 2024" pen to each student to use for yearbook signing. Another expense we're considering is a DJ. If we can get our food expense in line, I'm hopeful we can have a DJ but we'll have to wait and see.

Lastly, I'm confident Tim will intervene on Organic Life pricing which is why I copied him. If they do not come down in price we'll have to purchase hot dogs from Sam's Club or something... It would just be more efficient if we could obtain food from our on sight vendor.

I promise to be at next meeting. Thank you!

Sincerely,
Shannon Sullivan & Colleen Deutmeyer

PTO Action:

The PTO is setting aside a reserve budget of $1,825. With the idea that we are suggesting not using Organic Life as it is very unlikely they will decrease their price enough to make sense.
